EXPERIENCE UC DAVIS

Now, more than ever, physician assistants and nurses are needed to fill the need for health professionals. With a master's degree from the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing, you gain entry to one of today's fastest-growing and best-paid health professions. Learn more about the programs at the Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing at UC Davis, where students experience the most advanced learning approaches.

Master's Entry Program in Nursing — Begin your career as a health leader and work as part of a health care team as a registered nurse through our entry-level master's-degree nursing program. This program prepares new nurses as leaders in quality and safety, advocates for diverse populations and agents of change for healthier communities.

Physician Assistant Studies Program — Physician assistants are the providers of choice for millions. This career continues to be one of the fastest-growing health professions. More than 1,500 physician assistants completed their studies at UC Davis over the past 45 years.
